DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

COMMITTEE ON SECURITIES

The following ruling has been issued by the Committee on Securities since the date of the last Weekly Buletin:

¶Hydrometals, Inc.

August 26, 1960.

The Committee on Securities rules that "when issued" contracts in Hydrometals, Inc. 6% Convertible Subordinated Debentures, Series A, due July 1, 1972 must be settled on Friday, September 2, 1960, by delivery of such Debentures and that settlement of contracts may be enforced "under the rule" beginning September 2, 1960.

Attention is directed to the fact that the first interest period on the above Debentures is from August 25, 1960 to January 1, 1961 and thereafter the interest on such Debentures is payable on January 1st and July 1st basis.

The accrued interest from August 25, 1960 to September 2, 1960 (7 days) amounts to $1.1666 per $1,000 Debenture.

On and after Monday, August 29, 1960, the above Debentures will be dealt in on a "regular way" basis instead of on a "when issued" basis.

INTEREST

	Amount	Record Date	Payable	Ex-Interest on A. S. E.
¶National Theatres & Television, Inc. (5½% 1974)	Quarterly interest of $13.75 per $1,000 Debenture	Aug. 24	Sept. 1	(a)

¶ Fully Listed

(a) Entire issue of Debentures is outstanding in registered form. The Debentures are dealt in "and interest", and accordingly are not quoted "ex-interest". In accordance with the provisions of Rule SR-81, Debentures which are delivered after August 24, in settlement of transactions made prior to August 26, must be accompanied by due bills for the above referred to interest payment.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

September 9, 1960.

The Board of Governors of the American Stock Exchange has authorized the filing by the Exchange of an application with the Securities and Exchange Commission to withdraw the Voting Trust Certificates of Cuban-Venezuelan Oil Voting Trust from listing and registration on the Exchange in view of the fact that the Voting Trustees intend to discontinue, in the near future, the payment of the costs of the maintenance of transfer and registry facilities for said Voting Trust Certificates due to the insufficiency of funds for the maintenance of such facilities.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

NOTICE

The Board of Governors, on September 29, 1960, found Michael Horowitz, a regular member of the Exchange, and general partner in the member firm of Michael Horowitz & Company, guilty of acts in violation of Article VII, Section 4, Article XI, Section 4 (j), Article V, Section 4 (l), and Rule 345.

In accordance with Article V, Section 4 (i) and 4 (m), the Board voted to suspend Michael Horowitz from regular membership for a period of three calendar months, commencing October 3, 1960, until the opening of business January 3, 1961, imposed a fine in the sum of $5,000 and a severe and formal censure. The suspension stems from Mr. Horowitz' failure to pay to the Exchange, when due, the full amount of the transactions charge (1½%) on net commissions earned by him on transactions effected by him through the facilities of the Exchange. The fine in the sum of $5,000 was imposed for violation of those Articles of the Constitution regarding the maintenance of true and complete books and records, and violation of Rule X-17a-4(b), of the General Rules and Regulations under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934, which resulted in violation of Article V, Section 4 (j) of the Constitution.

The reprimand, under Exchange Rule 345, was based upon the failure of Mr. Horowitz to obtain written consent from a member firm in connection with the gifts made by him to employees of the member firm.

NOTICE

At a regular meeting of the Board of Governors held on October 6, 1960, Anton E. Homsey, general partner in the member firm of DuPont, Homsey & Company, was expelled as an associate member of the Exchange in accordance with Article V, Section 4 (c) of the Constitution.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

The Committee on Securities rules that the Common Stock of Holophane Company, Inc. be quoted "ex" on Wednesday, January 4, 1961 the distribution of one additional share of said stock for each share held; that all certificates for said stock delivered after December 15, 1960, in settlement of transactions made prior to January 4, 1961, must be accompanied by due bills for said distribution; and that such due bills must be redeemed on Monday, January 9, 1961.

During the period in which the above stock is dealt in with due bills attached, in addition to the regular New York State stock transfer tax of 4¢ per share, additional New York State stock transfer tax will be required to be paid on the shares represented by due bills at the rate of 4¢ for each share represented by due bills.

¶I. Rokeach & Sons, Inc. (Name to be Changed to Exquisite Form Industries, Inc.)

Notice has been received that effective October 31, 1960 the name of I. Rokeach & Sons, Inc. will be changed to Exquisite Form Industries, Inc. and the par value of the Class A Capital Stock of said corporation will be changed from 50¢ per share to 10¢ per share.

Accordingly, beginning Tuesday, November 1, 1960 transactions in the Class A Capital Stock will be recorded under the new name of the corporation and as in 10¢ par value shares with the new ticker abbreviation E X Q.A.

¶Seaboard & Western Airlines, Inc.

October 26, 1960.

Notice has been received that, subject to prior effectiveness of a Registration Statement under the Securities Act of 1933 and the making of an offer by the Corporation, Seaboard & Western Airlines, Inc. proposes to offer to the holders of its Common Stock, which is to be reversely split on a 1-for-3 basis effective October 28, 1960, the Right to Subscribe to additional shares of the "new" reversely split stock in the ratio of two additional shares of such "new" Common Stock for each share of "new" stock held. Members are cautioned that two Rights will be issued in respect of each share of "new" stock held of record at the close of business on October 31, 1960 and that one Right plus the subscription price will be required to subscribe for one share of "new" stock. For example, a holder of 100 shares of "new" stock (equal to 300 shares of presently outstanding stock) will receive 200 Rights (not 100 Rights) to purchase 200 shares of "new" stock. DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

COMMITTEE ON SECURITIES

The following rulings have been issued by the Committee on Securities since the date of the last Weekly Bulletin:

¶All American Engineering Company

November 10, 1960.

Reference is made to previous announcement regarding the proposed Subscription Offering by All American Engineering Company.

Notice has now been received that the proposed record date for the offering will be the close of business on November 21, 1960, or such later date on which the registration statement relating to the offering becomes effective, instead of the close of business on November 15, 1960, the previously announced tentative record date. It is also expected that the Right to Subscribe will expire on December 6, 1960 instead of on November 30, 1960, the previously announced tentative expiration date.

Accordingly, in lieu of its previous ruling requiring deliveries of the Common Stock of All American Engineering Company which are made after November 15, 1960, and until further notice, to be accompanied by due bills for the Subscription Rights, the Committee on Securities now rules that all certificates for said stock which are delivered after November 21, 1960 and until further notice, must be accompanied by due bills for the Subscription Rights.

Upon receipt by the Exchange of notice with respect to the effectiveness of the registration statement referred to above, the Subscription Rights will be admitted to dealings on the American Stock Exchange, and the Common Stock of All American Enginering Company will be quoted "ex-Rights" on the day following the date of admission of the Subscription Rights to dealings on the Exchange.

¶El-Tronics, Inc.

November 10, 1960.

The Committee on Securities rules that transactions in the "new" Common Stock, Without Par Value, of El-Tronics, Inc. must be settled by delivery of certificates for said stock.

The Committee further rules that unsettled transactions in the "old" Common Stock, Par Value 5¢, of the above Corporation may be settled by delivery of either certificates for said stock or the equivalent thereof in certificates for the "new" Common Stock, Without Par Value, for which the "old" Common Stock is exchangeable.

¶Empire Millwork Corporation (Name Changed to Empire National Corporation)

November 7, 1960.

Notice has been received that the name of Empire Millwork Corporation has been changed to Empire National Corporation.

Accordingly, beginning today, November 7, 1960, transactions in the Common Stock, Par Value $1.00, of the Corporation will be recorded under its new name. The ticker abbreviation remains as heretofore, viz: E M P.

Orders previously entered with the specialists or which may hereafter be entered in the above issue shall be effective as to the purchase or sale of same under the new name of the Corporation.

The Committee on Securities rules that until further notice transactions in the above issue may be settled by delivery of certificates bearing the old name "Empire Milwork Corporation" either without or with an overprinted legend relating to the change in name of the Corporation to "Empire National Corporation".

ADDITIONAL CHANGES TO BE MADE IN THE ABBREVIATION BOOKS

Name Changed: ¶Empire Millwork Corporation to Empire National Corporation. Amendment to Certificate of Incorporation filed on November 4, 1960. DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

COMMITTEE ON SECURITIES

The following rulings have been issued by the Committee on Securities since the date of the last Weekly Bulletin:

¶All American Engineering Company

November 21, 1960.

Reference is made to previous announcements regarding the proposed Subscription Offering by All American Engineering Company.

Notice has now been received that the proposed record date for the offering will be the close of business on November 29, 1960, or such later date on which the registration statement relating to the offering becomes effective, instead of the close of business on November 21, 1960, the previously announced tentative record date. It is also expected that the Right to Subscribe will expire on December 14, 1960 instead of on December 6, 1960, the previously announced tentative expiration date.

Accordingly, in lieu of its previous ruling requiring deliveries of the Common Stock of All American Engineering Company which are made after November 21, 1960, and until further notice, to be accompanied by due bills for the Subscription Rights, the Committee on Securities now rules that all certificates for said stock which are delivered after November 29, 1960 and until further notice, must be accompanied by due bills for the Subscription Rights.

Upon receipt by the Exchange of notice with respect to the effectiveness of the registration statement referred to above, the Subscription Rights will be admitted to dealings on the American Stock Exchange, and the Common Stock of All American Engineering Company will be quoted "ex-Rights" on the day following the date of admission of the Subscription Rights to dealings on the Exchange.

A.) at the price of $20.50 per share which, at today's rate, is approximately 145 Shillings per unit. The foregoing is subject to there being obtained the consent of Her Majesty's Treasury which it is intended will be sought immediately. DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

COMMITTEE ON SECURITIES

The following rulings have been issued by the Committee on Securities since the date of the last Weekly Bulletin:

¶Italian Power Realization Trust

December 22, 1960.

Notice has been received from Meadow Brook National Bank, Successor Indenture Trustee of Italian Power Realization 6½% Cumulative Liquidation Trust Certificates, that on January 20, 1961 it will make a distribution to the holders of such Certificates of record at the close of business on December 30, 1960, at the rate of $60.00 per $1,000 original face amount of Certificates of which $21.00 will be on account of accumulations at the rate of 6½% per annum and the balance of $39.00 will be on account of reduction of the face amount of such Certificates. As a result of the $39.00 payment on account of reduction of the face amount of the above Certificates, the face amount thereof will have been reduced by an aggregate of 39 4/10% or a total of $394.00 per $1,000 original face amount of Certificates.

Accordingly, the Committee on Securities rules that the above referred to Italian Power Realization Trust 6½% Cumulative Liquidation Trust Certificates be quoted "ex" the above referred to distribution at the rate of $60.00 per $1,000 original face amount of Certificates on Tuesday, December 27, 1960, and that such Certificates shall continue to be dealt in "flat".

Attention is directed to the fact that on and after Tuesday, December 27, 1960, when the above Certificates are quoted "ex-distribution", quotations and transactions in said issue will continue to be made on the basis of $1,000 original face amount of certificates. For example, a transaction at 59 will mean 59% of $1,000 original face amount of Certificates or $590.00.

¶SIMCA

December 21, 1960.

Attention is directed to the following communication which has been received by the American Stock Exchange from First National City Trust Company, New York, N. Y., Depositary, with reference to the reorganization of SIMCA:

"Pursuant to the reorganization of Simca, the presently outstanding Simca shares with Coupon No. 23 and subsequent coupons attached will, on December 21, 1960, become exchangeable for shares of two new Companies (1) Simca Automobiles and (2) Simca Industries. Coupon No. 23 is to be detached and exchanged for one-third share of Simca Automobiles, and each share represented by the presently outstanding Simca certificates with Coupon No. 24 and subsequent coupons attached is to be exchanged for one-sixth share of Simca Industries. In addition to trading in Paris in shares of the two new companies, trading and quotation of Coupon No. 23 separately, and of presently outstanding Simca certificates with Coupon No. 24 and subsequent coupons attached, will also continue in Paris for some time.

Underlying the present Simca American Shares are the presently outstanding Simca shares with Coupon No. 23 and subsequent coupons attached. The American Shares are listed on the American Stock Exchange and will not be delisted until some time early in 1961 when the legal requirements have been met to effect the presently contemplated American depositary receipt arrangements with respect to the shares of the two new companies. Meanwhile, in connection with deposits or withdrawals from deposit of old Simca shares, brokers should, until further notice, be guided as follows:

1. In the event old Simca shares are deposited with the Paris Sub-Depositary against the issuance in New York of American Share certificates, such delivered Simca shares must have attached or be accompanied by Coupon No. 23 and all subsequent coupons.

2. In the event that an American Share certificate is surrendered to the Depositary in New York, for cancellation against delivery in Paris of the old Simca shares, such delivery will be made by the Paris Sub-Depositary with Coupon No. 23 and subsequent coupons attached. (In other words, the equivalent of the stock of the two new companies.)"

In connection with the foregoing, members are reminded that the American Shares for the Capital Stock of Simca are issued on the basis of 2 American Shares representing 1 share of deposited Capital Stock of the corporation.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

NOTICE TO MEMBERS AND BRANCH MANAGERS

ATTENTION: MANAGING PARTNERS DIVIDEND BOOK READY AFTER FEBRUARY FIRST

On a no charge, unlimited copy basis, "Dividends For More Than A Decade", annual survey of American Stock Exchange common stocks with outstanding dividend records, will be available for distribution soon after February 1, 1961. Member firm imprints (also free of charge) will be placed on the front cover of the booklet upon request. Imprint copy should accompany orders. Notices and order forms have been mailed to regular and associate members, partners and registered representatives with the suggestion that ordering be coordinated by main offices.

The 16 page booklet, long a favorite with investors, and an excellent member-firm promotion, will show that 317 of the Exchange's common stock issues have been paying dividends for between 10 and 112 consecutive years. The survey, presented in industrial classification form, will show total consecutive annual payments, per-share dividends paid in 1960, closing prices at 1960 year-end and the yield.

Please determine your requirements and promptly advise the Exchange's Department of Public Relations on the order forms which have been mailed.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

COMMITTEE ON SECURITIES

The following rulings have been issued by the Committee on Securities since the date of the last Weekly Bulletin:

¶The Martin Company

February 16, 1961.

Reference is made to the two-for-one split of the Capital Stock of The Martin Company which has been effected by the distribution on February 10, 1961 to stockholders of record at the close of business on January 20, 1961 of one additional share of said stock for each share held.

Attention is directed to the fact that pursuant to the provisions of the Indenture relating to the Warrants for the purchase of the Capital Stock of The Martin Company, the number of shares of said stock issuable upon exercise of such Warrants has been adjusted by reason of the aforesaid splitup so that each Warrant now represents the right to purchase two and ten one hundredths shares of Capital Stock instead of one and five one hundredths shares of Capital Stock for the total sum of $40 until and including November 1, 1963 and for the total sum of $45 from November 2, 1963 until and including November 1, 1968.

¶Sperry Rand Corporation

February 16, 1961.

Reference is made to the 2% stock dividend which has been declared on the Common Stock of Sperry Rand Corporation for payment on March 30, 1961 to stockholders of record at the close of business on February 9, 1961.

Attention is directed to the fact that pursuant to the provisions of the Warrant Agreement dated September 1, 1957 relating to the Warrants for the purchase of the Common Stock of Sperry Rand Corporation, the number of shares of said stock issuable upon exercise of such Warrants on and after February 10, 1961 has been adjusted by reason of the aforesaid stock dividend so that thereafter each Warrant represents the right to purchase one and two one hundredths shares of Common Stock instead of one share of Common Stock for the total sum of $25 until and including September 16, 1963 and for the total sum of $28 from September 17, 1963 until and including September 15, 1967.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend' dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend' dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend' dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend" date on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend' dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend' date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend' date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend' date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

MONTHLY BUSINESS REVIEW

Continuation in May of the April rate of increase in industrial production has clearly established more than a minor upturn. We assume that the expansion of business activity evident since February will be sufficiently extensive to be classified as a cyclical recovery.

Nevertheless, we still doubt that an extremely prosperous situation comparable with the extended "boom" periods since World War II soon will be experienced. Some "straws in the wind" suggest that the present expansion phase is different in important respects from the preceding ones of the past decade.

Last month we suggested that the marked upturn in automobile sales may have reflected the earlier payment of life insurance dividends to veterans and the expediting of tax refunds ordered this year. Apparently, more than $1 billion was thus placed in the hands of consumers several weeks earlier than such funds were distributed in other recent years. We assume that many families who had planned to purchase a new car this year probably bought earlier than they had originally planned to do so when they received a few hundred dollars several weeks in advance of the time they had expected it.

Sales of new automobiles for a single 10-day period should not be considered conclusive proof that the situation was as suggested above. However, sales for the first 10 days of June totaled only 150,000 cars, 10 percent less than that for the first 10 days of May and about 17 percent less than sales in the corresponding periods of 1959 and 1960. Moreover, although sales were maintained almost unchanged in the first 10 days of June 1959 from those during the preceding 10 days, this year a decrease of 25 percent occurred.

Ordinarily, sales of new cars in June approximate the May totals or are slightly less. Decreases, even in recession years, have been only on the order of 4 to 8 percent. In years of cyclical recovery such as 1959 and early 1960 gains of 9 and 5 percent, respectively, occurred. Therefore, the marked decrease in sales from those for the last 10 days of May and the somewhat smaller but unprecedented (in recent years) decrease of 10 percent from the early May rate of sales suggests that sales of new cars during the entire month were seriously disappointing to dealers and manufacturers.

Production of automobiles was encouraged by the May increase in sales, which had resulted in the first substantial decrease in new-car inventories since last fall. If production was continued at the recent rate during June, however, inventories of new cars may have increased again to a near-record total.

Another possible "straw in the wind" is the trend of basic commodity prices during recent weeks. Since highs for the year were reached on May 2, basic commodity prices decreased 4 percent, and prices of raw industrial commodities decreased somewhat more than 4 percent. The percentage decrease for the latter in a month was greater than any monthly percentage decrease during the 1960 recession. Moreover, this price series is one of the leading indicators selected by the National Bureau of Economic Research. Such marked declines at this stage of a business expansion are most unusual and perhaps significant.

Still another "straw in the wind" is found in the record of steel production. A seasonal increase of 4 to 5 percent from the May rate ordinarily occurs in June, but steel production was decreasing during June this year from the peak level reached in May. During May, production of steel increased contraseasonally, and in June the reverse occurred. No doubt, the May increase had a substantial effect on the Federal Reserve Board's index of industrial production, and the June experience will have a similarly marked but opposite influence.

In our discussion of the business situation a month ago we mentioned that "* * * whether or not more inflationary purchasing media increase demand in the Nation's market places during the next several months apparently will depend largely on the following factors:

1. The extent to which future Government deficits are monetized by the commercial banks; and,

2. The extent to which additional private debt is monetized by the commercial banks." More information now is available that throws some light on these possibilities.

The great increase in private debt that has continued since World War II seems to be reaching a practical limit. Year-to-year increases have been decreasing to a much slower rate of expansion than that of the early 1950's. Moreover, at the end of 1960 consumer mortgage debt was at an alltime record, 37 percent more than that of 1929 in relation to personal incomes after taxes, and consumer installment debt also was at a record total, more than 40 percent greater than that of 1929 in relation to disposable personal income.

Repayments of principal in the form of monthly payments less interest charges also are at record levels. On mortgage debt repayments now approximate $29 billion annually, and on consumer installment debt repayments approximate $48 billion annually. Thus far in 1961 new consumer installment loans have been somewhat less than repayments, and the outlook for automobile sales suggests that this situation may continue. Net new mortgage debt increased only $11 billion in 1960, and a somewhat smaller increase seems probable this year. Present indications are that mortgage repayments in 1961 will provide nearly all the funds needed for new mortgage loans.

New savings by individuals during 1960 in the principal thrift institutions including life insurance companies totaled about $22 billion. This year, if the rate of accumulation during recent months continues, the total will exceed $25 billion. Unless corporate borrowing increases greatly, which does not now seem probable, current savings will be available to finance nearly all of, and perhaps more than, the Federal deficit expected in the last 6 months of this year. In that event no more inflating would result in the near future; in fact, some deflation might occur. We believe that the developments that will have a decisive influence on the magnitude and duration of the cyclical expansion of business now apparently under way will be reflected in our index of inflation during the next several months.

*INFLATION OR DEFLATION?

The Harwood Index of Inflation for June is estimated at 207, which is 2 points less than the revised index for May. The revised indices for February, March, April, and May are, respectively, 216, 207, 211, and 209.

The Treasury expects to incur a deficit that will require it to borrow between $8 billion and $11 billion of "new money" before the end of 1961. If the present increasing trend of savings continues, a considerable amount of the current savings may be used to acquire new Treasury securities, thus avoiding monetization of those securities by the banking system. In fact, if neither individual nor corporate borrowing increases markedly this year, current savings may absorb the Treasury deficits in the remaining months of 1961 and in addition some earlier issues of Treasury securities now held by the banking system. In that event, some deflating rather than more inflating would occur.

We do not have an adequate basis for predicting at this time whether more inflating or some deflating will be experienced in the months ahead. However, we believe that more inflating would temporarily stimulate the business recovery at the cost of accentuating already existing economic distortions but that some deflating probably would restrain, perhaps for the time being reverse, the expansion of business. Although the latter development would be painful in the short run, in the longer run the beneficial effects of lessening or removing present economic distortions would become apparent.

*STATUS OF STATISTICAL INDICATORS

With some exceptions, the statistical indicators listed in the accompanying table present a typical picture of a cyclical recovery of business activity. The fact that more than 50 percent of the lagging series still are contracting is not yet evidence that the upturns among the other indicators will prove to be abortive.

Among the leading indicators, we question whether the floor space of commercial and industrial construction is in the expansion phase in view of recent erratic fluctuations. Failure liabilities continue to be large, but the current trend is not clearly defined. The recent downturn in prices of industrial raw materials, although extensive, may be only a combination of seasonal weakness and reaction to the marked upturn several weeks earlier.

The coincident indicators seem to reflect a well-established cyclical recovery. Nevertheless, we doubt that industrial production will continue to increase at the April-May rate; in fact, at least a temporary reversal of the upward trend would not be surprising in July. The unemployment rate remains near the highest level of the recent recession.

Following the three earlier recessions since World War II, the lagging indicators have turned upward more promptly. More than 50 percent were expanding not

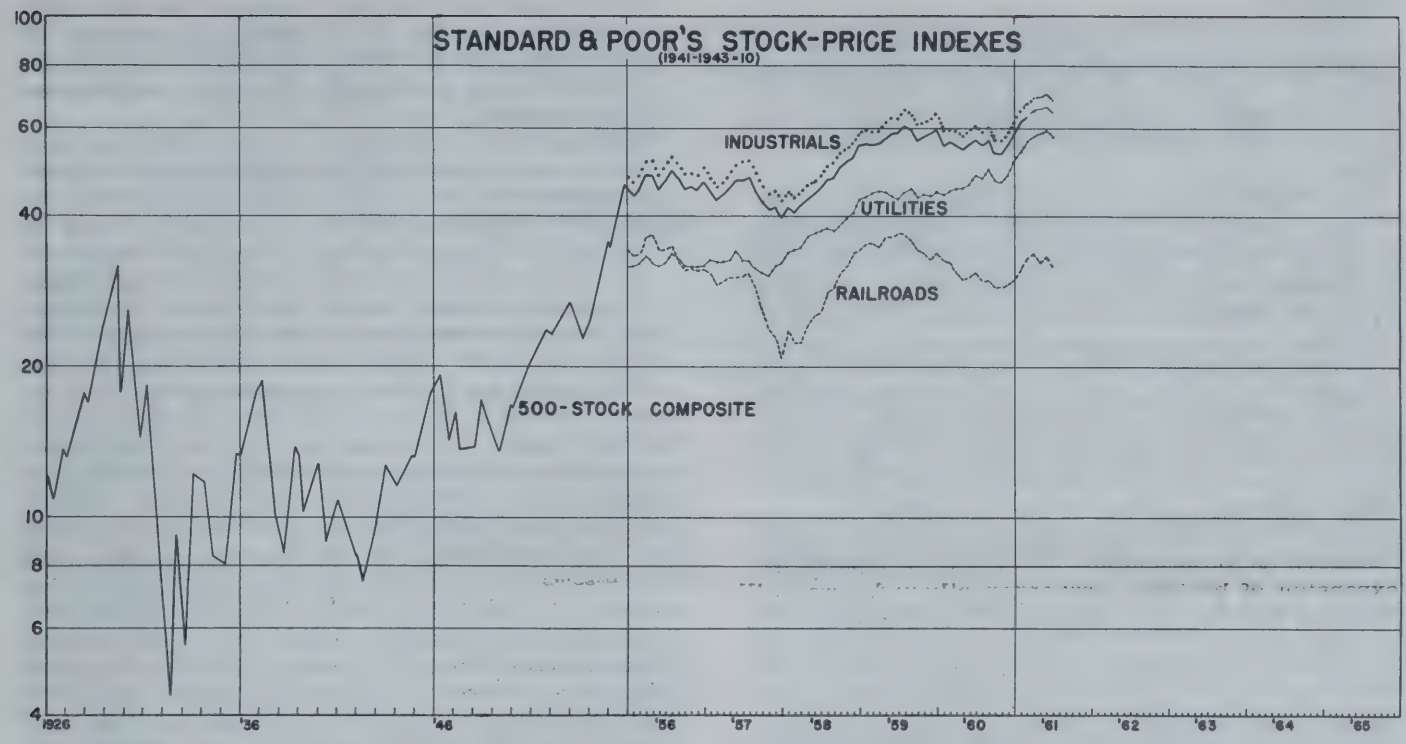
Note: Plus or minus signs indicate respectively increases or decreases in monthly or moving-average data and expansion or contraction in the current appraisals of the cyclical status of each series. A blank space indicates that data are lacking.

Asterisks indicate series that have been inverted so that their movements will conform directionally with those of the other series; this is done for series which usually decrease during business expansions and increase during business contractions.

A question mark following a classification sign indicates some reason to doubt the classification.

The series of Gross National Product in terms of constant 1954 dollars is excluded from the computation of the percentage of roughly coincident indicators expanding.

* Because most readers of the Investment Bulletin are interested primarily in the investment implications of current developments, we present in this bulletin only summaries and our conclusions pertaining to the Harwood Index of Inflation and the statistical indicators. Two "Technical Bulletins" of our Research Reports series explain the index of inflation and the statistical indicators in detail. Copies of these "Technical Bulletins" will be sent to readers on request. For those who wish to follow current developments among these economic indices in greater detail, including our chart showing the index of inflation, we suggest subscription to the Research Reports, which are published weekly. Annual Sustaining Members (contributions, $9 quarterly or $35 annually) receive both the Investment Bulletin and the Research Reports as well as the annual revision of Institute booklets and any new publications.



later than 4 months after the troughs of each of these recessions. Whether or not the failure of the lagging indicators to confirm a cyclical upturn of business activity at this time will prove to be significant remains to be seen.

In this connection, we caution readers that the statistical indicators are not infallible guides for business forecasting as some observers seem to have assumed. The indicators are not the statistical laboratorians' proof of a general theory of business cycles. Eventually, they may have a place in a complete scientific explanation of cyclical changes, but at present the indicators do not have this status.

Especially should one realize that current appraisals of specific cyclical trends among the indicators are subject to error. Only with the help of hindsight long after the cyclical changes have occurred can cyclical trends for the individual indicators be identified clearly. For example, the leading indicators judged currently by short-term moving averages as they became available yielded 21 false signals of cyclical changes in the period from 1919 to date. Similarly, the coincident and lagging indicators have provided about as many false signals (based on more than 50 percent expanding or contracting) during the past four decades. The National Bureau of Economic Research has pointed out that an observer attempting to interpret the diffusion indexes (percentage expanding or contracting) month by month will encounter difficulties and that a currently maintained diffusion index involves much uncertainty as to the cyclical statuses of the indicators.†

In the earlier years since World War II, when more inflating was virtually assured by dishoarding of the huge amount of inflationary purchasing media created during the war years, we had reason to believe that cyclical recessions would be small in magnitude and brief in duration and that cyclical recoveries would be extensive and prolonged. Now, more inflating is not assured. We believe that businessmen and investors who assume that the present status of the statistical indicators justifies speculation in inventories or securities may be incurring risks far greater than any they imagine.

INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION

Our preliminary estimate of the index of industrial production for June is 312 (1935-39=100), 1 percent (4 index points) more than the revised index for May and unchanged from the revised index for June 1960.

Revised indices for the preceding 6 months are as follows: December, 293; January, 291; February, 291; March, 291; April, 301; and May, 308.

Latest Data

Production of steel ingots and castings during the 4 weeks ended June 17 averaged 2,078,000 tons per week, an increase of nearly 7 percent compared with output during the previous 4 weeks and nearly 17 percent more than that during the similar period last year.

Although average weekly production during the most recent 4 weeks increased compared with that for the previous 4 weeks, steel output in each of the last 3 weeks has decreased. This unfavorable trend is explained by steel executives as the usual slowdown during the summer months when the automotive industry shuts down for model changeovers and many other industries operate at less than capacity because of vacation schedules, etc. However, accompanying this slowdown have been price weaknesses for several key products. Usually, price reductions are not experienced during an expansion phase of a business cycle. Perhaps the fact that this industry is operating at only 70 percent of capacity and can still supply most products on short notice contributes to weakness of the price structure. Also, the increased availability of foreign steel products probably hastened some price reductions in order that domestic products would be competitive.

Further complicating the efforts of the steel industry to increase production is the keen competition encountered by greater use of plastics, aluminum, and other alternative materials. These materials also force the steel companies to maintain competitive prices.

The composite price of No. 1 heavy melting steel scrap as reported in the Iron Age was $37.83 per ton on June 20, unchanged from that reported last week but $1.33 per ton more than that reported a month earlier. In the similar 1960 week the price was $31.00 per ton.

Motor-vehicle production in the United States for the week ending June 17 was 157,105 units, including 131,703 passenger cars and 25,042 trucks, nearly 3 percent more than output during the previous week but nearly 4 percent less than that during the similar 1960 period.

Automobile manufacturers are initiating model changeovers this year somewhat earlier than usual for two apparent reasons. First, a substantial reduction of current new-car inventories is desired before the new models are introduced in the fall. Second, the industry wants to ensure a large enough production of 1962 model cars to fill dealers' showrooms in the event that a strike by the United Automobile Workers occurs in late August. Several weeks ago Secretary of Labor, Arthur Goldberg, is reported to have asserted that a strike in the automotive industry this year would be "intolerable." Recently, the Secretary has had trouble remembering the contents of the speech. However, since the new Administration took office the Department of Labor has played an active role in several labor disputes. Therefore we should expect that the Government also will become involved in these negotiations if a strike appears to be imminent.

Railroad freight carloadings during the 4-week period ended June 17 averaged 573,856 cars per week, 4 percent more than the average for the previous 4-week period but 9 percent less than the weekly average during the similar period last year.

Electric-power production averaged 14,657,000,000 kilowatt-hours per week during the 4 weeks ended June 17, nearly 3 percent more than the average for the preceding 4-week period and 8 percent more than the weekly average during the similar period last year.

Lumber production averaged 254,302,000 board feet per week for the 4 weeks ended June 17, 6 percent more than the weekly average for the previous 4 weeks and 8 percent more than that for the similar 1960 period.

SECURITY MARKETS

STOCKS

Stock prices were somewhat lower near the end of June than they were at the end of May, the first such decrease since September of last year.

A moderate contraction of prices after 8 successive monthly advances is not necessarily significant as an indication of the longer-term trend. Only after a few more months have passed shall we know whether the June setback was merely a brief hesitation in a continuing upward trend or the beginning of a more prolonged downward adjustment.

However, the recent decrease in prices has been more pronounced and of longer duration than those usually experienced during the early stages of a major cyclical recovery of business activity. Therefore, even such a minor decline raises doubts as to whether the current expansion of business activity will develop into a prolonged boom accompanied by extensive increases in stock prices.

Developments in the stock market from the early 1950's to date reveal that there are reasons for questioning whether even a sustained and substantial expansion of business activity necessarily would be accompanied by a further great rise in stock prices.

As of December 31, 1952, a few days before the cyclical peak of stock prices was reached in January 1953, Standard and Poor's index of prices for 500 stocks was 26.57, which was 10.34 times the then current earnings for the companies involved, and the average dividend yield on the same stocks was 5.29 percent. During the subsequent recession the price-earnings ratio for these stocks fell to 8.81 and dividend yields rose to 6.08 percent. Near the next cyclical peak for stock prices in July 1957 the average price for these 500 stocks was 13.65 times earnings and dividend yields had been reduced to 3.65 percent. At the subsequent trough in December 1957 prices were only 12.50 times earnings and yields were 4.48 percent. The next peak occurred in January 1960 when the price index had increased to about 60, which was 18.95 times earnings, and the dividend yield was only 3.06 percent. At the low point reached last October the price-earnings ratio was 16.73 and yields were 3.64 percent. As of March 31, 1961, only 5 months after the most recent upturn, prices were 21.93 times earnings and dividend yields were only 2.98 percent. Thus, in each of the cyclical fluctuations during the past 10 years price-earnings ratios have moved successively higher and dividend yields successively lower until they now are at levels that have been seen only on a few occasions during the past century, and then only at major cyclical peaks.

Inasmuch as earnings now are capitalized at an unusually high rate and dividend yields are approaching the lowest level recorded in a century, we believe one should not assume that the situation constitutes a sound base from which a further great rise in prices can confidently be expected. Such a development presumably would require a great increase in corporate net earnings during the years ahead, a doubtful occurrence in view of existing political restraints and tax burdens.

BONDS

Prices for most Government, tax-exempt, and corporate bonds decreased (yields increased) substantially during the past month. The Dow-Jones average of prices for 40 representative corporate bonds decreased from 85.72 at the end of May to a 1961 low of 84.38 at the close of trading on June 26. In contrast, interest rates on short-term obligations fell markedly during the month. The average yield on 91-day Treasury bills was 2.219 percent as of June 26 compared with 2.438 as of May 26.

Recent developments in the bond markets, especially those during the past month, have been contrary to the aims of the Administration, which are lower interest rates on medium- and long-term borrowing accompanied by firm or increasing short-term money rates. Moreover, further increases in medium- and long-term rates would not be surprising if business activity continues to expand.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend' date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend' date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend' date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

COMMITTEE ON SECURITIES

The following rulings have been issued by the Committee on Securities since the date of the last Weekly Bulletin:

¶All-State Properties, Inc.

July 28, 1961.

Reference is made to previous announcement regarding the proposed offering by All-State Properties, Inc. to the holders of its Capital Stock of record at the close of business on July 28, 1961, at Mineola, Long Island, N. Y., or such later date on which the registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933 relating to such offering becomes effective, of the Right to Subscribe at $10.00 per share to one share of Capital Stock, Par Value 10¢, of its wholly-owned subsidiary, Allstate Bowling Centers Inc. for each nine shares of Capital Stock of All-State Properties, Inc. held. In addition, stockholders will also be entitled to make additional subscriptions for such shares as shall have been unsubscribed for, subject to allotment.

Since the registration statement referred to above has not yet become effective, the close of business today will not be the record date for the offering. Accordingly, previous ruling of the Committee on Securities requiring all certificates for the Capital Stock of All-State Properties, Inc. which are delivered after July 27, 1961, and until further notice, to be accompanied by due bills for the Subscription Rights is cancelled.

Announcement will be made at a later date with respect to the new (and later) record date which is to be established for the above offering.

Said splitup will be effected by the distribution on August 29, 1961 to stockholders of record at the close of business on August 15, 1961 of one additional share of Common Stock, Par Value 50¢, for each share of said stock held.

Effective Wednesday, August 16, 1961 the additional shares of Common Stock which will be the subject of the above referred to distribution will be admitted to "When Issued" dealings on the Exchange. With respect to the change in par value, effective August 16, 1961 transactions in the Common Stock of the Corporation will be recorded as in 50¢ par value shares. The Committee on Securities rules that until further notice such transactions may be settled by delivery of either certificates bearing the par value of $1.00 or certificates bearing the Par Value of 50¢ per share.

The Committee on Securities rules that the Common Stock of Giannini Controls Corporation be quoted "ex" on Wednesday, August 30, 1961 the distribution of one additional share of said stock for each share held; that all certificates for said stock delivered after August 15, 1961 in settlement of transactions made prior to August 30, 1961, must be accompanied by due bills for said distribution; and that such due bills must be redeemed on Tuesday, September 5, 1961.

During the period in which the above stock is dealt in with due bills attached, in addition to the regular New York State stock transfer tax on sales at the rate of 4¢ per share, additional New York State stock transfer tax will be required to be paid on the shares represented by due bills at the rate of 4¢ for each share represented by the due bills.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend' date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

NOTICE RE COMMISSION RATES

It has come to the attention of the Exchange that there may be some confusion regarding the method of computation of commissions on stocks with a unit of trading of less than 100 shares. In view of this the attention of members is directed to the following language of Paragraph (d) of Notice G-28 published August 5, 1958 in explanation of the commission structure of the Exchange:

(d) On stocks with a unit of trading of less than 100 shares, when an order is entered not exceeding 100 shares, the money value of all shares executed in the transaction is the basis for determining the commission. For one or more units of trading, with or without an odd lot, the commission is computed from the round lot formula. When there is only an odd lot (less than the unit of trading) the commission shall be computed from the formula using the odd lot deduction.

Members are cautioned that commission charges must be computed in accordance with this paragraph in the case of stocks with a unit of trading of less than 100 shares. The normal 100-share commission cannot be prorated to determine the commission charge on a transaction of less than 100 shares. For example, the commission on a round lot transaction at $50 a share in a stock with a 100-share unit of trading is $44, while the commission charge for a 50-share transaction at the same price in a stock with a 50-share unit of trading is $31.50, not one-half of $44.

The following rulings have been issued by the Committee on Securities since the date of the last Weekly Bulletin:

¶All-State Properties, Inc.

August 8, 1961.

Reference is made to previous announcements regarding the proposed offering by All-State Properties, Inc. to the holders of its Capital Stock of the Right to Subscribe at $10.00 per share to one share of Capital Stock, Par Value 10¢, of its wholly-owned subsidiary, Allstate Bowling Centers, Inc. for each nine shares of Capital Stock of All-State Properties, Inc. held. In addition, stockholders will also be entitled to make additional subscriptions for such shares as shall have been unsubscribed for subject to allotment.

Notice has now been received that, subject to the condition that the registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933 relating to the above offer becomes effective on Friday, August 11, 1961, as presently contemplated, the close of business on said date at Mineola, Long Island, N. Y., will be the record date for the subscription offer. It is expected that the subscription period will be for approximately two weeks following the date of mailing of the Subscription Rights.

The Committee on Securities rules that the Capital Stock of All-State Properties, Inc. be not quoted "ex" said Rights until further notice, and that all certificates for said stock which are delivered after August 10, 1961, and until further notice, must be accompanied by due bills for the Subscription Rights.

The Subscription Rights will be admitted to dealings upon receipt of notice by the Exchange that the above referred to registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933 relating to the above offering has become effective, and the Capital Stock of All-State Properties, Inc. will be quoted "ex-Rights" on the Exchange on the day following the date when the Subscription Rights are admitted to dealings.

¶Sperry Rand Corporation

Reference is made to the 2% stock dividend which has been declared on the Common Stock of Sperry Rand Corporation for payment September 28, 1961 to stockholders of record at the close of business on August 10, 1961.

Attention is directed to the fact that pursuant to the provisions of the Warrant Agreement dated September 1, 1957 relating to the Warrants for the purchase of the Common Stock of Sperry Rand Corporation, the number of shares of said stock issuable upon exercise of such Warrants on and after August 11, 1961 has been adjusted by reason of the aforesaid stock dividend so that thereafter each Warrant represents the right to purchase one and four one hundredths shares of Common Stock instead of one and two one hundredths shares of Common Stock for the total sum of $25 until and including September 16, 1963 and for the total sum of $28 from September 17, 1963 until and including September 15, 1967.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

The subscription price will be par (100%) (flat). The conversion ratio for the Debentures will be established and announced shortly before the offering is made.

The record date for the subscription offering is expected to be the close of business on September 12, 1961, at Los Angeles, California and the subscription period is expected to be approximately 14 to 16 days from the date of mailing of the subscription warrants. DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

On and after September 18, 1961 the above issue will be dealt in on a "regular way" basis instead of on a "when issued" basis.

¶The Harn Corporation

Notice has been received that, subject to prior effectiveness of a Registration Statement under the Securities Act of 1933 The Harn Corporation proposes to offer to the holders of its Common Stock, Par Value $1.00, the Right to Subscribe to additional shares of said stock. The subscription ratio and the subscription price will be established and announced shortly before the offering is made.

¶Occidental Petroleum Corporation

Accordingly, previous ruling of the Committee on Securities requiring certificates for the Common Stock of Occidental Petroleum Corporation delivered after September 8, 1961 to be accompanied by due bills for the Subscription Rights is cancelled. In lieu thereof, the Committee now rules that all certificates for said stock which are delivered after September 11, 1961 and until further notice, must be accompanied by due bills for the Subscription Rights.

There will be no oversubscription privilege.

It is expected that the Right to Subscribe will expire on October 13, 1961. The subscription price will be announced shortly before the offering is made.

The Committee on Securities rules, subject to the above offering being made, that the Common Stock of The Seeburg Corporation be not quoted "ex" said Rights until further notice and that all certificates for said stock which are delivered after September 26, 1961, and until further notice, must be accompanied by due bills for the Subscription Rights.

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

NOTICE

At a special meeting of the Board of Governors held October 19, 1961, Dominick R. Comenzo, an associate member of the Exchange and President of the member corporation of D. R. Comenzo & Co., Inc. was found guilty of conduct or proceedings inconsistent with just and equitable principles of trade within the meaning of Article V, Section 4 (i) of the Constitution; and guilty of acts detrimental to the interest or welfare of the Exchange within the meaning of Article V, Section 4 (k) of the Constitution, violation of Article XI, Section 3, of the Constitution, and Rule 411 of the Rules adopted by the Board of Governors.

The Board of Governors voted to expel Dominick R. Comenzo as an associate member of the American Stock Exchange.

The decision was based on certain transactions made by D. R. Comenzo & Company, in the collection of Royal Dutch Petroleum Company interest coupons. The charges involve the filing of false affidavits in that it was represented that the certificates from which the interest coupons had been detached had been exhibited to the firm by the owners thereof in accordance with the applicable regulations.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

COMMITTEE ON SECURITIES

The following rulings have been issued by the Committee on Securities since the date of the last Weekly Bulletin:

¶Audion-Emenee Corporation (Name Changed to Emenee Corporation)

November 15, 1961.

Notice has been received that the name of Audion-Emenee Corporation has been changed to Emenee Corporation.

Accordingly, beginning Thursday, November 16, 1961 transactions in the Common Stock, Par Value $1.00, will be recorded under the new name of the Corporation with the new ticker abbreviation: E M E.

Orders previously entered with the specialists or which may hereafter be entered in the above issue shall be effective as to the purchase or sale of same under the new name of the Corporation.

The Committee on Securities rules that until further notice transactions in the above issue may be settled by delivery of certificates bearing the old name "Audion-Emenee Corporation" or certificates bearing the new name "Emenee Corporation".

¶Hoffman International Corporation

November 16, 1961.

Reference is made to previous announcement and ruling regarding the proposed offering by Hoffman International Corporation to the holders of its Common Stock of the Right to Subscribe for a new issue of 7% Convertible Subordinated Debentures, due June 1, 1973 at par (flat) in the ratio of $100 principal amount of said Debentures for each 21 shares of Common Stock held. In addition, stockholders will also be entitled to make additional subscriptions for such Debentures as shall have been unsubscribed for, subject to allotment.

Notice has now been received that the record date for the subscription offering will be the close of business on November 21, 1961 instead of the close of business on November 15, 1961, the previously announced tentative record date, which new record date is also subject to change depending upon the effective date of the registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933 relating to the above referred to Debentures.

Accordingly, previous ruling of the Committee on Securities requiring certificates for the Common Stock of Hoffman International Corporation delivered after November 15, 1961, and until further notice, to be accompanied by due bills for the Subscription Rights is cancelled. In lieu thereof, the Committee now rules that all certificates for said stock which are delivered after November 21, 1961, and until further notice, must be accompanied by due bills for the Subscription Rights.

¶Nuclear Corporation of America

November 13, 1961.

The Committee on Securities rules that "When Issued" contracts in Nuclear Corporation of America 5½% Convertible Subordinated Income Debentures, due October 1, 1976 must be settled on Thursday, November 16, 1961 by delivery of such Debentures and that settlement of contracts may be enforced "under the rule" beginning November 16, 1961.

Sellers may make delivery prior to November 16, 1961 upon one day's written notice to the buyers.

The above Debentures are dealt in "flat" so that no accrued interest is involved in the settlement of contracts in the Debentures.

On and after today, November 13, 1961 the above Debentures will be dealt in on a "Regular Way" basis instead of on a "When Issued" basis.

ADDITIONAL CHANGES TO BE MADE IN THE ABBREVIATION BOOKS

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

In addition, stockholders will also be entitled to make additional subscriptions for such Debentures as shall have been unsubscribed for, subject to allotment.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

Attention is directed to the fact that effective January 1, 1962, the subscription price payable upon exercise of the Common Stock Purchase Warrants of Armour and Company will increase from $17.50 per share to $20.00 per share in accordance with the terms of such Warrants.

xBritish Columbia Power Corporation, Limited

December 11, 1961

Reference is made to previous announcement to the effect that British Columbia Power Corporation, Limited has authorized a distribution of $18.70 in Canadian funds on December 20, 1961 to holders of its Common Stock of record at the close of business on December 7, 1961, at Montreal, Canada which amount represents a partial distribution of the funds received by the Corporation from the Canadian provincial government in expropriation of its subsidiary, British Columbia Electric Company, which distribution was authorized subject to the approval of stockholders at a meeting to be held on December 8, 1961.

Notice has now been received that the above referred to meeting of stockholders of British Columbia Power Corporation has been adjourned to December 18, 1961 and that the close of business on December 15, 1961 at Montreal has been established as the new record date for the above distribution in lieu of December 7, 1961.

The previous ruling of the Committee on Securities to the effect that the Common Stock of British Columbia Power Corporation, Limited be not quoted "ex" said distribution of $18.70 in Canadian funds until further notice is continued in effect. However, the portion of the ruling requiring certificates for said stock delivered after December 5, 1961, and until further notice to be accompanied by due bills for said distribution is amended to require certificates for the stock delivered after December 13, 1961 and until further notice to be accompanied by due bills for said distribution.

Members who have previously received deliveries of the above stock with due bills for the above distribution will be required to transfer such certificates by the close of business on December 15, 1961 on which basis such due bills are null and void.

¶Cook Paint and Varnish Company

December 8, 1961.

Notice has been received that, pursuant to an amendment to the Certificate of Incorporation of Cook Paint & Varnish Company approved by stockholders, the Common Stock, Par Value $20 of said Company will be split on a two-for-one basis into Common Stock, Par Value $15 by the distribution on January 11, 1962 to stockholders of record at the close of business on December 21, 1961, of one additional share of Common Stock, Par Value $15.00, for each share of said stock held.

The Committee on Securities rules that the Common Stock of Cook Paint & Varnish Company be quoted "ex" on January 12, 1962, the distribution of one additional share of said stock for each share held; that all certificates for said stock delivered after December 21, 1961 in settlement of transactions made prior to January 12, 1962, must be accompanied by due bills for said distribution; and that such due bills must be redeemed on January 17, 1962.

During the period in which the above stock is dealt in with due bills attached, in addition to the regular New York State stock transfer tax of 4¢ per share additional New York State stock transfer tax will be required to be paid on the shares represented by due bills at the rate of 4¢ for each share represented by the due bills.

Effective today, December 8, 1961, the additional shares of Common Stock which will be the subject of the above referred to distribution will be admitted to "When Issued" dealings on the Exchange. Also effective today, December 8, 1961, transactions in the Common Stock of Cook Paint & Varnish Company will be recorded as in $15.00 par value shares but on a "distribution on" basis until January 12, 1962, as set forth below. Orders on the books of the specialists at the close of business on December 7, 1961, or which may thereafter be entered in the above stock shall be effective as to the purchase or sale of the $15.00 par value shares. The Committee on Securities rules that until further notice, such transactions may be settled by delivery of either certificates bearing the par value of $20.00 or certificates bearing the par value of $15.00.

¶Emertron, Inc.

December 6, 1961.

The Committee on Securities rules that "When Issued" contracts in Emertron, Inc. Common Stock, Par Value $1.00, must be settled on Thursday, December 14, 1961, and that settlement of such contracts may be enforced "Under the Rule" beginning December 14, 1961.

¶The Kratter Corporation

December 4, 1961.

Reference is made to previous announcement and ruling regarding the proposed offering by The Kratter Corporation to the holders of its Class A Common Stock of the Right to Subscribe at par (flat) for a new issue of 6% Subordinated Debentures due 1976 in the ratio of $1,000 principal amount of said Debentures for each 50 shares of Class A Common Stock of the Corporation held. In addition, stockholders will also be entitled to make additional subscriptions for the Debentures being offered, subject to allotment.

Notice has now been received that the close of business on December 1, 1961 will not be the record date for the above referred to subscription offering as previously contemplated. Such record date will be the close of business on such date on which the Registration Statement under the Securities Act of 1933 relating to the offering becomes effective which date is not presently determinable. Accordingly, previous ruling of the Committee on Securities requiring certificates for the Class A Common Stock of The Kratter Corporation which are delivered after December 1, 1961, and until further notice, to be accompanied by due bills for the Subscription Rights is cancelled.

The Committee on Securities suggests that members continue, on a daily basis, to transfer the Class A Common Stock of The Kratter Corporation to avoid unnecessary claims for the Rights pending the establishment of a record date for the subscription offering.

December 8, 1961.

Notice has been received that the record date of holders of the Class A Common Stock of The Kratter Corporation for the purpose of determining the holders of said stock entitled to receive the Right to Subscribe at par (flat) for a new issue of 6% Subordinated Debentures due 1976 in the ratio of $1,000 principal amount of said Debentures for each 50 shares of Class A Common Stock of the Corporation held will be no earlier than the close of business on Tuesday, December 12, 1961 and is subject to further change depending upon the date on which the Registration Statement relating to such Subscription Offering becomes effective.

Accordingly, members should arrange to transfer by the close of business on December 12, 1961 any certificates for the above stock which may be registered in previous owners' names so as to avoid unnecessary claims for the Rights in case December 12, 1961 becomes the record date for the offering.

Subject to the condition that the close of business on December 12, 1961 becomes the record date for the offering, all certificates for the Class A Common Stock of The Kratter Corporation delivered after said date in settlement of transactions made prior to the date on which the stock is quoted "ex-Rights" will be required to be accompanied by due bills for the Subscription Rights.

¶Rapid-American Corporation

December 11, 1961.

Notice has been received that, subject to prior effectiveness of a Registration Statement under the Securities Act of 1933 and the making of an offer by the Corporation, Rapid-American Corporation proposes to offer to the holders of its Common Stock and to the holders of its 5¾% Convertible Subordinated Debentures, due April 30, 1964 the Right to Subscribe for a new issue of Convertible Subordinated Debentures, due 1976, at par (flat) in the ratio of $100.00 principal amount of said Debentures for each 25 shares of Common Stock held and in the ratio of $100.00 principal amount of Debentures for each 25 shares of Common Stock into which the 5¾% Convertible Debentures are convertible. In addition, stockholders and debentureholders will also be entitled to make additional subscriptions for such Debentures as shall have been unsubscribed for, subject to allotment.

The interest rate and conversion ratio for the Debentures will be established and announced shortly before the offering is made. The record date for the offering is expected to be the close of business on December 14, 1961 or such later date on which the registration statement relating to the offering becomes effective. The subscription period is expected to be a minimum of two weeks.

The Committee on Securities rules that the Common Stock and the 5¾% Convertible Subordinated Debentures, due April 30, 1964 of Rapid-American Corporation be not quoted "ex" said Rights until further notice and that all certificates for said stock and the 5¾% Debentures delivered after December 14, 1961, and until further notice, must be accompanied by due bills for the Subscription Rights.

The Subscription Rights will be admitted to dealings upon receipt of notice by the Exchange that the Corporation's Registration Statement under the Securities Act of 1933 relating to the above offering has become effective, and the Common Stock and 5¾% Convertible Subordinated Debentures, due April 30, 1964 of the Corporation will be quoted "ex-Rights" on the day following the date when the Subscription Rights are admitted to dealings.

December 5, 1961.

The Committee on Securities rules that "when issued" contracts in Transportation Corporation of America 6½% Convertible Subordinated Debentures due December 1, 1973 must be settled on Monday, December 11, 1961 by delivery of such Debentures and that settlement of contracts may be enforced "Under the Rule" beginning December 11, 1961.

The above Debentures bear interest from December 1, 1961, and the accrued interest from said date to December 11, 1961 (10 days) amounts to $1.8055 per $1,000 Debenture.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.

The Committee on Securities rules that the Original Preferred Stock of Southern California Edison Company be not quoted "ex" until further notice said distribution of two additional shares of said stock for each share held and that all certificates for said stock delivered after January 10, 1962, and until further notice, must be accompanied by due bills for said distribution.

DIVIDENDS

NOTE: Dividend announcements in the Weekly Bulletin appear only until "ex-dividend" date, with the exception of dividends for which "ex-dividend" dates were not announced in previous bulletins.

The "ex-dividend" dates for the stocks set forth in the following tabulation have been established in accordance with the provisions of Rule 830 of the Board of Governors as outlined in a pamphlet, entitled "Explanation of Ex-Dividend Procedures", copies of which may be obtained at the Division of Securities of the Exchange.

Attention is directed to the fact that stocks which are also dealt in on other exchanges outside of New York City may have an earlier or later "ex-dividend date" on such out-of-town exchanges than that established by the American Stock Exchange since "ex-dividend" dates may vary in relationship to the delivery plan under which an exchange operates and its proximity to the transfer office.
